U.N. Planes Lash
At Red Buildup
In Strong Attacks

By RAFAEL STEINBERG
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

U.S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, July 23—Communist troops stepped up the warfare on Korea's eastern front today with sharp probing thrusts and bold attacks on United Nations patrols.

Similar Red aggressiveness was shown in the east-central sector while U.N. planes lashed at Red buildup activities portending a possible offensive in the event the Kaesong truce talks collapse.

U.N. Airmen Busy

The air force announced late Monday that its airmen carried out 600 sorties Sunday through cloudy skies and rain showers.

The communiqué said B-29 Superforts dropped more than 2,100 bombs during the day. Other planes joined in blasting and strafing enemy troop concentrations, supply dumps and communication arteries.

One American F-84 Thunderjet was listed as lost to Red ground fire Sunday.

The air force said its men had sighted twice as many Chinese and North Korean vehicles moving down North Korean roads during the past two weeks than were observed during the preceding fortnight. Tomorrow will be two weeks since the Kaesong armistice conference began.

Allied air activities over Korea were held to a minimum by foul weather Friday and Saturday.

Intensified Action

On the ground, intensified Communist action burst out Sunday near the Namgan river, northeast of the east coastal city of Kaesong, 29 miles north of Parallel 38. In this area the Reds energetically probed UN lines south of Kumsong, in the east-central area, the Reds counterattacked the Allied patrols from probing a reported enemy buildup east of the former "Iron Triangle" area.

In other parts of the Korean front, activity on both sides remained on an insignificant scale Sunday.

Contractor for the new Butler road, Route 422, should be turning the road over to the state for their acceptance soon, it is learned by the State Highway department. Finishing touches are being put on the berms and other parts of the new road. Some night work is in progress along the route.

Base stone is being placed on the new section of Route 18 south of the city preparatory to opening of the new road about August 1. The road opening will remove the detour set up by the highway department over the downtown section.

Saturday evening fireworks display could be heard almost in every section of the county as it went off in the Seventh Ward area. Some very loud aerial and ground bombs were set off. Many hundreds were attracted to the area to witness the display.

Sunday's heavy rains flooded numerous streets about the city before the storm sewers were able to carry off the excess waters. Many outdoor reunions and other events scheduled for the day were curtailed due to the inclement weather.

The crash-damaged twin-engine army plane that was escorted through the city the other evening on two tractor-trailers was on its way to the Greater Pittsburgh airport from Youngstown, O., where

Adm. Sherman's Death Not To Affect Pact With Spain

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 23—Official sources said today that the sudden death of Adm. Forrest P. Sherman, chief of Naval operations, will not delay plans for a mutual defense agreement with Spain.

They explained that official reports have been filed from each stop on his whirlwind inspection trip of European defenses. Consequently, while his first hand impressions of those he talked to will be lacking, all essential details will be shown.

Outstanding Development
The outstanding development of Sherman's trip was the preliminary discussions with General Franco on a mutual defense arrangement. This would give the U. S. access to existing Spanish naval and air bases in the program for rearming Europe against a Communist attack.

It was emphasized at the time that the State Department officially revealed U. S. plans to reach an accord with Spain that Sherman's talks were "preliminary" and "tentative."

They are to be followed by a mission of State and Defense Department officials to Madrid with technical details of giving the U. S. specified military rights in Spain. Sherman is understood to have outlined in a general way just what bases and rights are wanted. The payment which the U. S. will make for these concessions will be worked out through the U. S. embassy in Madrid and special advisors that may be sent there.

Embassy Has Report

The embassy is understood to have had a complete report from Sherman on his talks with Franco and other high Spanish officials. Likewise, the U. S. embassies in Paris and London have been filled in on Sherman's visits to those capitals, where he went to calm some of the fears engendered by U. S. negotiations with Spain.

NAPLES, July 23—Plans were completed today to fly the body of Adm. Forrest P. Sherman, chief of U. S. naval operations, back home tomorrow for a hero's burial. His sudden death yesterday came as a tragic climax to the trip in which he negotiated a military agreement for U. S. bases in Spain.

Official sources in Washington said that his death will not de-

The body rested in state under a military honor guard aboard the USS Mount Olympus, flagship for Admiral Robert Carney, commander-in-chief of the Mediterranean fleet, anchored off-shore in the beautiful bay of Naples.

Flags on all naval shore stations and ships in port flew at half staff in the traditional naval mourning

The dead man, whose body was found along the beach at East Springfield, Pa., was Lester V. Minner, who had fallen in the water from a rented boat when he tried to recover a comic book which had fallen in the lake.

Marshal Petain
Taken By Death

Hero Of Verdun In
First World War
Dies In Prison At 95

ILE D'YEU, France, July 23—(INS)—Former Marshal Henri Philippe Petain, the hero of Verdun in World War I but convicted as a traitor in World War II, died today in his island prison at the age of 95.

The aged French soldier, who headed the Nazi-backed Vichy government after the fall of France, died at 9:20 a.m. (4:20 a.m. EDT) on the fog-bound Ile D'Yeu, off the Atlantic coast of France.

That the end was near was known early this morning when Petain lost almost total control of his motor reflexes and his pulse was reported to be very weak and irregular.

Did Not Die In Prison
The Marshall did not die in the gloomy prison itself, but in the villa Luce on the island where he was placed after President Vincent Auriol modified his sentence to a "hospital pardon" in June.

This would permit the "hero of Verdun" to remain permanently in a hospital on the mainland rather than continue as an exile on the island. But he had been too ill to be moved from the island.

His wife and lawyers had rushed to the old soldier's bedside over the week-end when he first began to weaken and his wife remained beside him as his condition began to deteriorate rapidly.

Burial will be on the island in which Petain spent his declining years with the final services to be held in the church of Notre Dame De Port Joinville on the Ile D'Yeu.

President Warns Greater
Defense Progress Needed

By FELIX COTTEN
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 23—(INS)—President Truman told Congress today that at the half-way point of 1951 the nation is not getting strong enough fast enough and the Armed Forces may have to be strengthened beyond the planned 3.5 million men even if there is a truce in Korea.

The President, in his mid-year economic report, said that defense spending must be nearly doubled in the next year and that studies are being made to determine whether the military manpower goals should be raised.

Mr. Truman declared that "which we go from here" depends on decisions made by Congress and again asked the legislators for higher taxes and stronger price, wage and rent controls.

Slower Than Scheduled

He said that military output has moved "somewhat more slowly than scheduled" and that every effort should be made "to catch up with production schedules and keep abreast of them."

The chief executive assailed "extremists" who advocate cutting the rearmament program and said that "the greatest weakness we could disclose would be vacillation or lack of determination."

The President said plans call for boosting defense spending from a 35 to 65 billion dollar annual rate in the next year and added that this will make necessary strong anti-inflationary curbs, a 10-billion dollar tax boost program and greater public saving.

He declared that rearmament goals may have to be raised "in several important respects," and that if so he will ask Congress later to appropriate the necessary additional funds.

He said that after the outbreak of the Korean war "extremists" advocated a ten-million man Armed Force, a 100-billion dollar annual military budget and "straightjacket" controls.

Hope Wanes For
38 Persons On Missing Plane

JUNEAU, Alaska, July 23—(INS)—Hope waned today for 38 persons aboard a Korean airlift plane lost along the fog-shrouded Alaska Panhandle coast which has come to be known as a graveyard for missing planes.

Sixteen search planes were poised and ready to take off in a hunt for the four-engine Canadian Pacific Airlines craft which vanished shortly after taking off from Vancouver, B. C., for Tokyo late Friday. But heavy fog bringing ceilings as low as 500 feet grounded the search planes.

The plane carried 23 American Air Force men, three U. S. Army soldiers, two Canadian navy sailors and three U. S. Government officials as well as a crew of seven.

Find No Trace

Two American Coast Guard cutters, the Citrus and Cahoon, scoured the icy waters of the Alaska gulf Saturday and Sunday but found no trace of the vanished transport.

The plane was last heard from at 4:17 a.m. EDT Saturday when the pilot reported his position at an altitude of 9,000 feet, 50 miles off the Alaskan coast and 500 miles south of Anchorage.

Weak radio signals were picked up at various stations along the Alaskan coast Saturday giving rise to the belief that they may have come from an automatic transmitter aboard the plane. But U. S. Coast Guard headquarters at Juneau discounted this. The Coast Guard said the signals were unintelligible and seemed to be some sort of radio disturbance rather than signals.

Last Message

The pilots' last radioed position was at a point between Cape Spencer and Mt. St. Elias on the Alaskan coast where other planes have run into trouble.

An American C-54 transport disappeared in this area with 44 persons aboard in January, 1950, and was never found.

Another plane, carrying six persons, rammed into 10,750-foot Mt. La Perouse, north of Cape Spencer in July 1950. Search planes spotted the wreckage but the bodies were never brought out because of inaccessibility of the area by land.

Dick Contino To Go On Trial For Draft Evasion

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23—(INS)—Dick Contino, bobby-soxers' idol who ran his earnings with an accordion up to $4,000 a week, goes on trial today in federal court at San Francisco on charges of draft evasion.

The 21-year-old former Fresno, Calif., butcher boy disappeared from the California armed services induction center at Fort Ord last April 13 a few hours before he was scheduled to be sworn into the army.

Contino was found later in southern California and taken into custody by federal authorities. He asserted then that he fled the induction center because he was suffering from claustrophobia and could not stand to remain within the wire enclosures at the fort.

Gen. MacArthur Goes

BOSTON, July 23—(INS)—Boston put the finishing touches today on its welcome plans for General Douglas MacArthur who arrives in The Hub Wednesday for a two-day visit.

Optimism On

Gen. Ridgway Warns
Against Any Undue
Optimism On Parley

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, U. N. S.)

TOKYO, July 23—The five Allied truce conference delegates reassembled at their advance camp in Korea tonight, prepared to resume the recessed talks which staff officers gave less than a 50-50 chance of succeeding.

Vice Adm. Charles Turner Joy, chief delegate, and two of his colleagues landed in helicopters at the truce base, 15 miles southeast of Kaesong, at 7:20 o'clock Monday evening (5:20 a.m. EDT) after returning from Tokyo.

The other two delegates were already at the camp. All five immediately began preparing for the ninth Kaesong session scheduled to convene at 11 Wednesday morning (9 p.m. Tuesday EDT), unless the Reds beforehand comply with an Allied request to resume the talks earlier if possible.

Warns Against Optimism

Adm. Joy and his co-delegates returned to the truce camp at Munsan after their chief, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, warned against undue optimism regarding the possibilities of restoring peace to Korea.

Such excessive optimism, the United Nations supreme commander cautioned, is not warranted by the results of the enemy meetings thus far held at Kaesong. In an interview with a radio correspondent Sunday night, Ridgway added:

"I would not guess what is in the minds of the Communist leaders."

Adm. Joy and two members of his negotiating team—Rear Adm. Arleigh A. Burke and Maj. Gen. Lawrence C. Craigie—took off from Tokyo Monday afternoon following weekend consultations with UN TRUCE CAMP NEAR KAESONG, July 23—(INS)—A 50-foot gap was torn in the Imjin river bridge below the "Armistice city" of Kaesong today when a giant crane crashed through a steel girder.

The accident occurred as the Allied crewmen of the crane were trying to get it across the bridge in order to work on a causeway damaged by floodwaters Saturday.

HERO'S BURIAL IS PLANNED FOR SHERMAN

manner and will continue until sunset on the day of the admiral's funeral.

In Washington the defense department announced that Vice Admiral Lyne Dupuy McCormick will serve as acting chief until the appointment of a successor to Admiral Sherman. McCormick has been serving as vice chief of naval operations.

Wife Already Enroute Home

His wife, who had accompanied Sherman on his swing through Europe during which he met with Generalissimo Franco in Madrid, and conferred with Gen. Eisenhower in Paris and talked with other top military leaders in Frankfurt, London and Naples, was already enroute home by plane.

The grief-stricken widow left Naples yesterday afternoon in a special plane bound for Washington where she will make funeral arrangements. At a brief stopover in Madrid she reportedly said that her husband "died as he lived—forthright and brave."

Though tired from his strenuous tour of European bases and innumerable diplomatic conferences, Sherman appeared to be in good health. Saturday night he and his wife attended a concert in nearby Pompeii. After returning to the hotel he suffered a heart attack but recovered after a U. S. navy physician and an Italian specialist were rushed to his side.

Suffers Second Attack

Then later Sunday morning the admiral collapsed from another attack and this time did not recover. He died peacefully in a few minutes with his wife and Admiral Carney at his bedside.

His wife was quoted as saying that the admiral murmured just before he died:

"I shall have to take a few days rest when I return to Washington."

Sherman died at a time when he was at the very pinnacle of his naval career, holding the highest post the navy could offer as chief of operations and as such a member of the joint chiefs of staff.

Gen. Ridgway. They landed at Seoul, then helicoptered 21 miles northwest to the Munsan truce base.

There they joined the other two UN negotiators, Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodges and South Korean Maj. Gen. Pak Sun Yup.

Repairing Vital Bridge

Hodges had paid a surprise visit to Imjin river bridge on the road to Kaesong. There he was assured by a U. S. Army Engineer, Col. Edward G. Bailey of Laramie, Wyo., that the vital bridge, damaged earlier Monday in an accident involving a giant crane, would be repaired by noon Tuesday.

Gen. Pak had jumped from Seoul to the armistice camp shortly before Joy, Burke and Craigie arrived in the helicopters.

In Tokyo, meanwhile, working staff officers at UN military headquarters voiced misgivings about the prospects of negotiating a cease-fire. They noted reports of an ominous Chinese-North Korean buildup along the Korean front, including considerable quantities of artillery and food as well as fresh Red troops.

"The prevailing opinion around here is that there is less than an even chance of success in these talks," said one general headquarters officer.

He added: "The Communists are building up too much, particularly in equipment and food, to permit us to be optimistic."

Another GHQ officer, who has been in Korea on a special mission, gave it as his personal opinion that "the whole thing is a sham on their (the Reds') part."

VOTERS OF STATE TO GO TO POLLS ON TUESDAY

for abolition of U. S. controversial coal and iron police.

To Nominate 28 Mayors

Mayors and row office-seekers will be nominated in 28 third class cities and in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania's chief city. Sheriffs and county commissioners will be nominated in 38 counties while 29 other counties will concentrate on commissioners and other officers.

Sixteen of the 28 third class cities are controlled by Republicans while Democrats rule the other 12.

Primary fights in Philadelphia, Dauphin and Allegheny counties highlight an otherwise drab election picture.

In Philadelphia, Baptist Minister Daniel A. Poling, a prohibition party candidate for Ohio governor 29 years ago, is a favorite to win the GOP mayoralty nomination from Walter P. Miller, Jr., backed by independent Republicans. The winner will meet the victor of the Democratic mayoralty contest between City Controller Joseph S. Clark and former City Solicitor Joseph Sharfins.

The mayoralty fight highlights the battle for other city-county posts in Philadelphia. Republicans, strangely enough, will provide the color in Democratic-controlled Allegheny county tomorrow in a fight over a minority county commissionership. Democrats are conceded no trouble in winning next fall with the candidates nominated tomorrow because of a preponderant registration plurality.

MARSHAL PETAIN TAKEN BY DEATH

The body will be buried in the church cemetery.

Caught Cold

It was just before his 95th birthday on April 25th that Petain caught the cold that was eventually to lead to his death.

In death as in life he remains a controversial figure and will probably continue to do so for generations as Frenchmen try to answer the riddle: Was he traitor or patriot?

The aged Marshal was serving a life term for treason, having been convicted in 1945 for his activities as head of the Vichy government during the war. Originally he had been sentenced to death, but this was reduced to life imprisonment by Gen. Charles De Gaulle, then leader of the liberated French republic.

His role as head of a beaten nation made him appear to many Frenchmen to be a symbol of capitulation and cooperation with the Germans. But an equal number of others pictured the tottering, white-haired man as laying a wily "double game" and catering to the Nazis for the sake of his homeland. And then there were those who best remembered him as the "hero of Verdun" and the savior of France in the first World War.

A touring committee of 13 U. S. senators inspected Cape Girardeau yesterday and then flew to Kansas City last night to get firsthand knowledge of the damage caused in the twin cities by last week's disastrous floods.

Chairman Chavez (D) N. M., said all the members of his public works committees which pass on flood control projects—strongly criticized what he termed lack of federal aid for flood controls.

Sen. Chavez said he spoke for

1. The U. S. is determined to go ahead with the Spanish alliance despite their opposition on the grounds that it is unanimously agreed by military experts that Spain has much to offer in any defense against Russia.

2. The agreement will in no way interfere with the flow of military equipment scheduled under the North Atlantic treaty alliance, as France, particularly, had feared.

3. The accord will not indicate that the U. S. is writing off the defense of western Europe and planning to make a bastion back of the Pyrenees.

DECORATIONS

DEMAREST, Ga.—(INS)—Fellow students have suggested that Yasukuni Tiara first take a course in flower arrangement before he serves again as chairman of the decorations committee for a dance at Little Piedmont College. The Okinawan student, known around the campus as "George", consented to handle the flowers for a recent commencement ball in the library. He went all-out, but proved he still had much to learn about the flora of the Georgia mountains. Along with the daisies and mountain laurel, George also draped the walls with bright, green vines quickly identified as poison ivy.

FRIDA EK MARRIES R. F. KANENGEISER

Miss Frida Elinor Ek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Gerald Ek of Bessemer, was married to Richard F. Kanengeiser, son of Mrs. Harold L. Gordon, 1211 Highland avenue, New Castle, and the late Paul Kanengeiser, at a beautiful evening ceremony performed in the Mission Covenant church, Bessemer, Saturday, July 21, at 7 o'clock.

Dr. Robert F. Galbreath solemnized the double ring ceremony. On the altar were lovely flowers and lighted white tapers in seven-branched candelabra, banked in greenery. Pre-nuptial organ music was presented by Miss Lydia Carlson with Miss Lena Mae McConnell singing "Because," "Love Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The brides' bouquet of white gladioli complemented her distinctively designed gown of Chantilly lace, fashioned with a fitted bodice, scallop edging yoke and long pointed sleeves. The skirt was of lace and satin with lace extending into a graceful train. The fingertip veil was of French illusion with clusters of orange blossoms on each side of a narrow headress. The bride's father, Mr. Gerald Ek, gave her in marriage.

The maid of honor, Miss June Johnson of Bessemer, carried a cascade bouquet of pink and blue carnations to harmonize with her pink gown of dotted neckline with a double ruffle, tiered skirt, with matching mitts and headress.

Alvin Silvius of Volant acted as best man for the groom and Delbert Jackson of New Castle and Robert E. Jones of Granville, N. Y., ushered.

An open reception in the church parlors was held immediately following the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Kanengeiser will reside at 227 East Boyles avenue, New Castle, when they return from a wedding trip to Michigan.

The bride, a graduate of the Bessemer high school, has been employed at the Bessemer Limestone & Cement company. The groom, a graduate of Bessemer high school and Westminster college, is associated with the accounting department of the Universal-Rundle corporation.

The High Cost of Walking

Most of us remember when we could buy a pair of shoes for little more than it now costs to have them repaired.

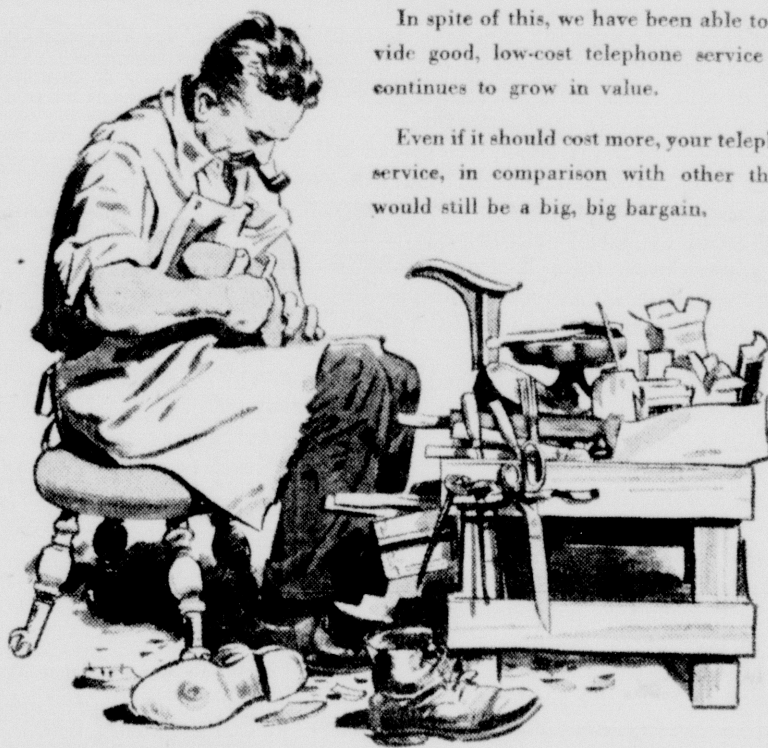

But don't blame the man who makes the repairs. He has to pay more for everything he uses. Blame the dollar! It just won't buy what it used to.

We are feeling the pinch, too.

The cost of supplies and equipment used in the telephone business is going up and up, just like the cost of supplies and equipment for other businesses.

In spite of this, we have been able to provide good, low-cost telephone service that continues to grow in value.

Even if it should cost more, your telephone service, in comparison with other things, would still be a big, big bargain.

DON'T LET REDS ESCAPE

In refusing to interfere with Federal Judge Ryan's revocation of bail posted for 11 Communist leaders, Circuit Court Judge Swan said what needed to be said about the nature of bail in criminal proceedings.

He explained that a prisoner released on bail is given into the custody of his bondsman, who is under obligation to deliver him to the court if he can. Mere forfeiture of the bail does not discharge that duty and the bondsman must help arrest the fugitive.

The Civil Rights Congress, which has put up the bail in the affected case, has shown itself derelict in its duty. After four top Communists had jumped $80,000 bail the day they were to go to prison, trustees of the CRC refused to give any information that might have helped locate the missing men.

Yet on top of that refusal, which has brought the three trustees jail sentences for contempt, they have the effrontery to demand that the court accept bail from their organization for the release of other Reds indicted on the same charges that have brought conviction to their comrades.

This was too much for Judge Ryan, who barred bail from the Civil Rights Congress as unacceptable. He was temporarily frustrated when Judge Hand, of the Circuit Court, which had previously ruled such bail satisfactory, reinstated the bonds, pending completion of a hearing by Judge Ryan. When the latter stuck to his revocation, Judge Hand concurred with Judge Swan in denying the CRC a stay of execution pending an appeal.

As a result the 11 Communists who had depended upon Civil Rights Congress bail are back in jail and will probably remain there until action is taken on appeal from the revocation order. The same thing should have happened to the previously indicted and convicted Reds, who were able to remain free on bail during three years of litigation.

Through the instrumentality of the Civil Rights Congress and its secret $1,000,000 bail fund put up by unnamed contributors, the Communists have been able to misuse the bail privilege to keep out of jail and, as in the case of the four fled recently, and Gerhart Eisler, who jumped bail in 1949, escape justice. If Justice Ryan's order is upheld, this handy tool will be lost to them.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

FASTER THAN SOUND

There is a way of telling whether a plane is flying faster than the speed of sound. The sound of an ordinary plane gets louder after you first hear it, reaches a peak, falls in pitch, and then tapers off again.

But when a supersonic plane passes, you hear the loudest sound first and it tapers off thereafter. You should also begin to hear two pitches at once, as soon as the sounds out-distanced by the approaching plane reach you together with the sounds left behind by the same plane departing.

But if you want to see the plane itself, you will have to move to the window fast. When you hear the first and loudest sound, it is already going away. If it is the new-rocket-driven navy flying laboratory going at top speed, it will travel almost a mile in three seconds. Even if you get to the window in less time than that, you may lose more time locating the plane, since it won't be where the sound seems to be coming from.

The flying laboratory's estimated speed was just short of 1,300 miles an hour in a recent test. (That is an aviation editor's estimate; the navy merely said it flew more than 1,000 miles an hour.) It also flew higher than 63,000 feet, or about 12 miles up. At that level the speed of sound is roughly half the estimated speed reached by the plane. It's freezing cold, far below zero; the air pressure is so slight that you couldn't live a minute outside the pressurized cabin.

There are no clouds and you can see the earth is round. There's only a trace of air left above you. You could get a dangerous sunburn there in no time at all. It's a lonely place, and dangerous enough by itself. But one of these days planes with men in them may be shooting at each other up there.

NEW LANDS FOR OLD

It is easy to accept the statement by Dr. G. J. Van Heuven Goedhart, UN high commissioner for refugees, that the refugee problem in Europe is not yet solved. How could it be?

During and immediately after World War II literally millions of persons were forced to leave their native lands and seek safety in whatever nations would open their doors to them. To imagine that all of these men, women, and children have been permanently relocated by this time is to be blind to the difficulties which the commission had to overcome.

Today there are still tens and tens of thousands living in refugee camps and wondering what fate has in store for them. While there are countries, including the United States, the United Kingdom, and Italy, which are willing to receive a certain number of displaced persons, the UN commissioner is of the opinion that many refugees will be better off if they can be resettled in the states where the camps are situated.

They have been where they are for so long a period that removal to still another nation will subject them to unnecessary hardships. These refugees have been tragic figures in post-war life. Most of them will never see their old homes again. They deserve the kindness and humane treatment they are getting under the auspices of the United Nations.

Setback For Britain

Great Britain has suffered another terrific setback in the Middle East with the assassination of King Abdullah of Jordan just at a moment when Iran had agreed to reopen negotiations with the British on nationalization of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

Abdullah had been a British "protégé" ever since he rebelled against Turkish rule in the First World War and owed his command position in the Arab world to British subsidies.

It was one of Israel's greatest complaints during the Palestine war, as a matter of fact, that Abdullah's strong and skilled desert warrior had British arms and ammunition were trained by British officers.

Was No Secret

Abdullah never made any secret of his ties with Britain and he angled frequently for support of his "greater Syria" plan under which most of the Arab nations would be unified into a single nation under his kingship.

The results of his killing may be far-reaching, although other similar terrorist acts in Iran, Jordan, Egypt have remained isolated instances and have not justified fears of a general explosion throughout the Arab world.

Abdullah's position was unique, however, and whether his son and successor, the Emir Naif, will be able to pursue his father's policies peacefully and with success is unpredictable.

Abdullah was an individualistic Arab potentate to the core.

He had tremendous confidence in his own ability and frequently took issue with Arab league leaders.

Fought Bitterly

It is true that Abdullah's desert warriors fought bitterly against the Israelis until he got what he wanted in a territorial sense. After annexing Arab Palestine and the old city of Jerusalem he declined proposals for continued all-out war against the Israelis.

He had been vigorous in defending his new territory and never would tolerate the slightest frontier violation by Israeli guards. But there was some measure of moderation in his approaches, provided, of course, that he was always granted the full honors and courtesies reserved for a direct descendant of the prophet Mohammed.

The British have one advantage in the fact that the Emir Naif is

PRISON INCIDENT

I talked to him through prison bars. A crime had been from him everything but time.

And that for years would slowly tick away.

Nor wind nor weather matter day by day.

"I had a wife," he said, "and she was ill. I needed money and I robbed a till."

My sentence, twenty years! That's quite a spell! But what are twenty years if she gets well?"

I've often thought—for that was long ago.

A man must deeply love to suffer so.

I've wondered, too, while he was in his cell.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

The rain wasn't of flood proportions such as we have been reading about in our West . . . but there was enough water last evening to do some damage . . . especially to property that had been freshly graded . . . and there is some of that around . . . No, we didn't have trouble . . . the crab grass and the weeds that we call lawn held firm . . . but some were not so fortunate.

But we can't talk about the rain too much . . . there are much more important items . . . and the most important is the day that is just across the darkness. Tuesday, July 24th . . . primary election day here in Pennsylvania . . . the day that so many in the past have passed by . . . for one small reason or another. Let's make it a point, each of us, to see that everyone we know to be properly registered, begets himself to the polls. And that the percentage of votes tomorrow be greater than ever.

It's important that you vote . . . and it's important that you vote for a man or woman whom you know, or rather feel down deep in your heart, will do a good job in the office he or she seeks. By this time we all should have our minds made up . . . we have read and heard qualifications . . . You can tell the ones who are sincere . . . and the ones who have talked without thinking. Do your best . . . and the best will be done for you.

Heard a cute little story over the week-end . . . and right now, with the tenseness of tomorrow strong in our minds . . . a story might be just the thing to bring on a smile. The little man was pushing his cart through the crowded aisles of the big supermarket. "Coming through," he called merrily. No one moved. "Gangway" he shouted. A few men stepped aside. He ruefully survey the situation, thought a moment, and shouted: "Watch your nylons!" The women scattered.

Make your X tomorrow.

Washington Calling

New Russian Tactic Developing?

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Among the most knowledgeable and experienced diplomats in Washington the belief is growing that Soviet Russia is in process of adopting an entirely new tactic. The basic goal of the new tactic is to call off the defense effort of the west, to restore the old status of troubled half waking, half sleeping, to split the already weakened western alliance.

The peace move in Korea is merely the first sign among several that are still in the potential stage. It should be quickly added, of course, that the little group in the Kremlin exercises such absolute authority that there could be an overnight reversal.

Other Signs May Follow

But if this is a genuine shift on a broad front, such as the decision by Moscow to enter into a pact with Nazi Germany in August of 1939, then other signs may follow. Usually such a shift is accompanied by a change in top personnel. At about the time of the Nazi-Soviet pact, Maxim Litvinov, who had worked for co-operation with Britain and France, was removed as foreign commissar.

Litvinov, long an advocate of peace with the west, became ambassador to the United States. Germany attacked Russia in 1941. Returned again to cold storage when his ambassadorship ended, Litvinov is seldom, if ever, seen in Moscow. If he were once more to be taken out and put into circulation, it would be an almost-sign of a new direction.

Speculation On The Shift

Speculation on the shift centers on the possibility that the Kremlin finally came to the realization that the Korean war was a blunder of monumental proportions. When it is put alongside earlier errors, the course of Soviet foreign policy since 1946 is seen to have produced exactly the opposite effect desired by Stalin and the politburo. The three biggest blunders seen in sequence are as follows:

1. Refusal to participate in the Marshall plan or to allow the satellite countries to take part. To the first meeting in Paris came Vyacheslav Molotov and a delegation of 120. The late Ernest Bevin, then British foreign minister, was convinced Molotov had come under original instructions to sign up. By the second or third meeting, his manner completely changed. Molotov denounced the scheme.

The very fact of Russia's acceptance—and what a gulf it measures between the two nations—reflects that the invitation included the Soviet Union—might have killed the plan at the outset. If that had not happened, Russia with the aid of the satellites could have sabotaged it from within after demanding the lion's share of aid and generally upsetting the plan. Without the Marshall plan, Communism unquestionably would have made far greater gains in western Europe and there conceivably could be Communist domination of governments in France or in Italy.

Coup In Czechoslovakia

2. The coup in Czechoslovakia that destroyed what remained of the Czech republic and put the actual center of power in Moscow. To millions of fellow-travelers and wistful yearners for a better world everywhere this was a shocking and convincing proof that the Kremlin would not tolerate a government in even a semi-puppet status in one of the satellites.

It was all or nothing and the shocked fellow-travelers jumped off the line like frightened rabbits. A lightning flash across a dark sky, it helped to alert the west to imminent danger. The lesson was underscored when Marshal Tito refused to play dead and broke off with Moscow, making Yugoslavia the first conform country to escape the embrace of the Russian bear.

3. Equipping and training the North Korean army for war and then giving the signal for that war. Completely subservient to Moscow, the North Koreans acted on orders and, if diplomatic intelligence at the time was correct, with the assurance that theirs would be a quick and easy victory. Russia was convinced the United States would not act with sufficient speed and force.

Greaters Of Three Blunders

Obviously, this was by far the greatest of the three blunders. It set in motion a tremendous rearmament effort in the United States. The North Atlantic alliance is becoming a reality with General Eisenhower as supreme commander. The great impetus was the naked aggression of Communism in Korea.

If this is a new Russian tactic, with deeds to document a peace offensive rather than the phony propaganda of the past two years, then clearly the chief danger in the months ahead will be right here at home. It will be the danger of our own division on the eve of what may be a savagely bitter presidential campaign. It will be the danger of mounting inflation. And, above all, it will be the danger that too many complacent Americans will accept a shift in tactics for a change of heart, which is certainly not to be.

Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT

It's An Economic War

WASHINGTON, July 23.

Among thoughtful men here the international developments of the last few weeks have greatly strengthened the long-held view that Russia has no intention now of making military war on us. This does not mean we should proceed on any other theory than that her purposes are intensely hostile and malignant, or that we can afford in any way to relax our effort to become militarily powerful.

It does mean that while we are now engaged in a war with Russia it is an economic war, and that unless precipitated into it by unforeseen accident or incident the Russians have no notion whatever of making it a general shooting war. This is the conviction not only of some of our ablest military men but of some of our most experienced diplomats. They base it on several reasons, chief of which is that it would be extremely stupid for the Russians to permit the present tensions to develop or drift into a general war. While the Kremlin leaders have been called a good many things, the charge of stupidity has not often been made. The argument runs that they know, first, that they could not win a general war against us and the rest of the free world; second, they know they easily might lose it. The risk is much too great. They would be insane to take it, especially as their success in the economic war would be as devastating to the United States as a military success would bring to Russia all the fruits of a military conquest without losing a man.

On this subject, Mr. John T. Flynn in a recent broadcast declared, "The Soviet objective is to make us commit suicide. Her plan is to keep up pouring out our money for all sorts of things and in all directions until we are bankrupt ourselves. And she can do just that. How long it will take I am not sure—at the rate we are going a few years would be sufficient. She could destroy the system of private enterprise in America without firing a shot. And if she does that she will have won the war." A great many persons, anything but isolationist and who in the main are favorable to the Truman foreign policies, nevertheless agree with Mr. Flynn about the possibilities of Russia winning her economic war and of the catastrophic results thereof. Regardless of the Korean settlement, they are sure the Russian war against us will continue until we come to our senses and stop helping Russia to ruin us.

There isn't much argument about what should be done. Few informed persons want to curtail defense expenditures or cripple the Marshall plan. But sensible men in both parties, not on the Federal pay roll, are, at least publicly, in favor of controlling inflation. No man in public life from the President down would dare take any other position. No one disputes that control of inflation is essential to the national health and that without it our economic existence is threatened. Under these conditions it is almost incredible that no effective move should have been made. Yet in more than a year of acute crisis inflation has steadily gained. Living costs have gone up, governmental waste has increased and, though there is slight dispute that $5,000,000,000 could be lopped off nondefense expenditures without crippling any needed government agency, no real step in that direction has been taken. On the contrary, the nondefense pay roll and nondefense costs daily mount.

We have failed to grapple realistically with the wage problem, with the farm problem and with the tax problem. More than a year ago the Baruch plan to prevent inflation was presented and almost unanimously accepted as sound. It was a five-point program—high taxes, rigid economy, ceilings over wages, food and rents. Mr. Baruch again and again pointed out that this program would not work if any part of it were ignored. All of it has been ignored—and it is perfectly clear that neither the President nor Congress has the simple courage to grapple with the big pressure groups who refuse to accept controls. So clear is this that many business men who strongly favored the Baruch program as a whole now oppose the controls on the ground that under present conditions they would create an almost intolerable confusion.

Not many men conversant with the facts can look on this situation without shame and alarm. It is a record of shocking inadequacy. It constitutes a terrific indictment of our system. The brains and character to make it function seem lacking at the top in both executive and legislative branches. We know the things that should be done. We know the peril involved in not doing them. But we just do not do them. It seems to make us out a nation of saps. Certainly it stands our rulers out as almost criminally incompetent. It is hard, indeed, to refute the charge that we are helping our enemy ruin us.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

It's a darn good thing for the bullfrogs of Virginia's Rush River that they have passed Professor William Haaker's music test. Had they failed they would have been exiled or completely "purged."

Haaker is the director of the Blue Ridge Mountains Music Festival, which is held every August in the natural outdoor theater on the banks of Rush River, near historic Washington, Virginia.

Haaker also conducts the Virginia Symphony Orchestra at Richmond. He recently visited the Festival site and decided to order a regiment of local boys to clear out the frogs, which made a lot of noise.

But before putting his decision into effect he played a little piece on the piano which was standing on the stage of the amphitheatre. "Lo and behold," Professor Haaker told reporters, "I noticed those frogs joined in the playing of the piano in absolutely true C sharp and in perfect UNISON."

"The result was so pleasing we're going to make it part of the program."

C sharp or B flat means nothing to me, and I am no expert on bullfrog symphony—or on any other kind of symphony.

But I was impressed by the fact that a bunch of frogs, previously condemned to extinction, now have become members of an excellent orchestra—because they sing in UNISON.

It is a far cry from frogs to religion.

But I couldn't help thinking of that frog story when I read a news item that once again there is a fight between two sets of churches, each accusing the other of not being the TRUE church.

From a theological point of view I know no more about the right or wrong of ritual and method than I do about symphonies or about C sharp and B flat.

But a musician plays a piece in C sharp when it is written for B flat—that is the MUSICIAN's fault, not the composer's.

The word of God is TRUTH, no matter on what instrument it is played, no matter by what method it is interpreted.

All religion shows the way to God.

No two or three or twenty different denominations or faiths or sects claim that there is more than ONE God.

Previously I have compared the different denominations with different railroads that go to the SAME terminal.

Today I will compare them with the setting of a play and the costumes worn in it.

The play is the SAME. But different producers have different ideas about scenery and costume. No one can prove that one producer is right and the other wrong. If the play itself is fine and worthy and inspiring, the details matter very little.

Shakespeare has been produced in a hundred settings and in many kinds of costumes.

But I believe that still lives and will continue to live while the producers and actors are forgotten.

God's word will live forever, because it is TRUTH. Only the TRUTH is eternal.

Why can't we seek and find the truth in UNISON?

Heavy Losses; Late Harvests

Flood-Swept Areas Are Handicapped

WASHINGTON, July 23.—(INS)—Heavy losses and late harvest are in store for many farmers in the flood-stricken areas of Iowa, Kansas and Missouri.

The weather bureau reports that little or no harvesting has been done in northeast Kansas, although farmers in south-central Kansas have been able to harvest about 65 percent of their crop. Only in the southwest was much cutting possible.

Combining is being resumed as fields dry, but weeds and sweet clover make the job difficult. Little of the lowlands of eastern Kansas was left untouched by the disaster. Lodging and shattering of grain is extensive.

Missouri farmers have harvested but 24 percent of their wheat crop, compared to the normal harvest of about 80 percent. The picture is the same for oats: harvests are 14 percent completed, compared with 72 percent in a normal year. The smallest percentage of corn since 1945 reached the tassel stage.

In Iowa, farmers have laid only half of their corn crop—a job that is usually completed by this time of the year. Many cornfields are too wet to cultivate and are weedy. The hay harvest was delayed, and much that was harvested was damaged by rains.

The Agriculture Department reports that hog prices dropped sharply in the past week, while marketings continued ahead of a year ago and the previous week. In some of the corn belt states, there was a slight drop in both weight and killing quality.

Sows, in particular, lacked the finish generally carried at this time of the year. Officials said these facts seem to indicate that receipts are starting to taper off.

Insects Are Temperamental When Weather Concerned

WASHINGTON, July 23.—(INS)—Insects are temperamental as far as weather is concerned. That's the conclusion of Agriculture Department bug specialists who spend most of their lives tracking down, classifying and then trying to eliminate the nation's pesky insect population. The experts point out there's no such thing as good or bad weather for bugs. Corn borers can't cause much trouble during a cool, late growing season, but that's the kind of weather June bugs thrive on. So, you may have little damage from one, and a plague of the other.

Or take boll weevils. Cotton growers can control the weevil fairly well when hot, dry weather prevails. But that's perfect weather for a grasshopper plague, the experts lament.

Happening This Year

Look what is happening this year. Many farmers thought they would have a real insect problem to cope with. Their spring time battles with green bugs, army cut worms and such led them to think 1951 would be a bumper year for the wee mites.

But the battle may not be quite that bad—because insects are temperamental about weather—and the weather has been against two of the worst of them. Those corn borers didn't have much luck this year. They came early in the season but went away hungry, as cold and rain delayed the corn crop. The other major pest, the boll weevil, likes humid weather—insects they got a cold spring with drought in many areas. That just about finished any danger of a major weevil campaign this spring.

6,500 Types Of Bugs
Nevertheless, there are still plenty of insects to make work for the farmer and lower his income. In fact there are 6,500 types of bugs in the U. S., although only 650 of these can damage crops. Each year they combine to eat about four billion dollars worth of food and fiber production.

The nation's farmers still face stiff battles against the pink boll worm, which is rapidly becoming a major threat in the cotton belt. Armies of forest tent caterpillars have invaded the rich forest and farm lands of Michigan and department experts still have no fool proof method of fighting them.

On the brighter side, grasshoppers seem to be facing their most unhappy season in a decade. Except in Montana, conditions are all against them and the army cut worm, which swarmed down about dozens of Colorado communities early in the season, don't stand to be much of a threat. They are all in the adult, non-damaging stage.

Body Of Trapped Miner Recovered

KEEWATIN, Minn., July 23.—(INS)—Rescue workers have recovered the body of a miner who was trapped in a cave-in 200 feet underground in the Bennett iron ore mine near Keweenaw.

The body of William Torvinen, 38, was found yesterday. He was trapped Friday and rescue workers tried unsuccessfully to reach him in a two-day round the clock effort.

J. E. Schneider, mine superintendent said Torvinen was killed by falling rock. The cave-in occurred in a chamber 110 feet long connected by a tunnel with the mine's vertical shaft.

Resume Hunt For Body Of Girl Lost When Boat Upsets

LANCASTER, Pa., July 23.—(INS)—State police resumed a search today for the body of a two-year-old girl believed to have drowned in the Susquehanna river when her parents' fishing boat capsized.

The child was Lyndell Sweimer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl S. Sweimer, of 216 N. Fourth St., Reading.

The parents and two other children—Earl M. S., a brother, and Jean Homel, 13, a half-sister—were saved after the 14-foot outboard-powered wooden boat overturned yesterday near Fishing Creek.

Police said the Sweimers had drawn up beside another craft to ask directions. When the other boat started off its outboard motor churned up a backwash that rocked the Sweimers' boat. The occupants tried to steady it but it capsized.

Rescue effort were aided by three Reading men fishing in the area: Earl Frankhouser, and Nicholas and Woodrow Perecco.

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

The Light Touch

There's a nice story about Pandit Nehru, the famous Indian leader, and his family. During the struggle for independence, Nehru became the idol of the Indian people and was referred to in quite extravagant terms. The head of a lesser man might well have been turned.

Among the things that helped him keep his balance was the attitude of his wife and daughter. At breakfast, for instance, they would say, "Oh, Star of India, please pass the fruit." And at other times, too, the light touch would be given.

It's human for us to take ourselves too seriously. We're fortunate, indeed, if someone close can help us keep perspective. But it's a delicate art. For the line between destructive sarcasm and helpful humor is a thin one.

For children, as well as for grownups, the light touch, kindly teasing, can have an important role. It's an approach that most families can use to advantage.

Queen Fredericka of Greece was born in Germany and married her second cousin in 1938. During World War II, while she and her husband were exiled from their homeland, she conducted benefits for war relief for that land. Returning to her husband's native land after the war the husband's brother, king of the land, died and her husband succeeded him to the throne. The couple have three children, two girls and a boy. She is pretty and popular with the people of her adopted land. She is a granddaughter of the late Kaiser Wilhelm II of Germany, and traces her ancestry back to Queen Victoria of England.

Just Crazy About Money

NEW YORK, July 23—(INS)—I am just an old-fashioned girl who is crazy about money and I don't care who knows it.

This is a very, very subversive statement and I would not be surprised if the FBI isn't on my door step within minutes after this passionate declaration sees print.

It is practically worth one's life today to be caught saying a kind word for the old moola or folding money in big hunks, because money is extremely unpopular except with (1) the people who have it or (2) the people who want it.

Otherwise everyone, i.e. the politicians, the reformers and the do-gooders, are agin money. They spend all their waking time knocking clam shells and the people who have any.

It has reached the point where the politicians now view the man who has managed, by dint of hard labor, to latch onto a little personal property and a few stocks and bonds as a jerk and un-American.

Prima Facie Evidence
Especially the stocks and bonds. They are prima facie evidence that a man is a clear and present danger to his nation's internal security.

Why, I am so old that I can remember when only New Dealers and Fair Dealers hated other people's money. But now the Republicans are right up to their arm-pits in the same hate campaign.

The above philosophic musings are prompted by the recent actions of Rep. James G. Fulton (R) Pa. in demanding the cancellation of the visas and passports of 17 American citizens who are planning a super-duper luxury tour of Europe and North Africa.

The sybaritic 17 are going on a conducted tour that will cost them $392 per day for 37 days or the sum total of $14,404, not including souvenirs, aspirin and postcards. I take it that each of the 17 has the cash in hand, that he came by it legally and that it is his to spend it, when and where. Not to mention how!

I can't imagine going to Europe or any place else on a conducted tour. And I can't imagine spending $392 in a single day, much less $392 on each of 37 successive days. (Personally, I will settle for three days worth of $392, or $1176 and go to Europe for six weeks!)

It's Nobody's Business
But if there are 17 persons left in the United States who have that kind of dough left after paying Uncle Sam his fair share in taxation, and after shelling out to state, county and city governments, then I say it is nobody's business, including that of Rep. Fulton, how they spend their money.

If Rep. Fulton is going to lift the visas and passports of these citizens, then I propose that he also demand that Barbara Hutton, Doris Duke and other gilded American tourists surrender theirs. I have seen some of our citizens spending at a European clip that would make the 17 with their $392 each per diem look like pikers in a penny ante game.

And what about demanding that European and particularly South American countries retain at home all their suspicious nationals tainted with big dough? All those French washing down the caviar with pink champagne in New York's costliest restaurant aren't paying for it with script or mirrors. And that goes double for the South Americans who order twice as much caviar with thrice as much champagne.

Or what about doing away entirely with people with money, any money? Off with their silly, fat heads! The ideal American, as envisioned by the politicians today, is a stumblebum with his seat out of his pants and both hands in the public treasury.

I can remember when Franklin D. Roosevelt made a so-called humorous suggestion in private conversation that no income in this country be allowed to exceed $25,000. Republicans and Democrats alike screamed their heads off. The words "socialist" and "communist" were hurled through the air.

Now every politician wants to get into the act. Possession of money and personal property are anathema. And the guy who has either or both should oblige his country by dropping dead.

COON OUT ON LIMB

MIO, Mich.—It took a little tree surgery to revive a raccoon believed to be dead. Conservation officer Ralph Fisk noticed the animal fast in a tree but when he approached more closely it renewed its struggle to get free. As soon as Fisk cut the binding limb, the raccoon bolted for its den a few yards away.

Last winter, guards with machine guns were posted outside Sing Sing prison in New York to prevent inmates escaping across the frozen Hudson river.

Husband And Wife Plunge Over Falls In Yosemite

YOSEMITE VALLEY, Cal., July 23.—(INS)—Mrs. Norman Yeoman, 25-year-old housewife was reported "greatly improved" today after plunging over the 340-foot waterfalls in Yosemite National Park Saturday while attempting to rescue her husband.

Her husband, Eric, 25, Alameda, Cal., high school teacher, escaped uninjured from the accidental journey through the churning waters in the wildest part of Yosemite.

Mrs. Yeoman suffered a fractured spine, a cracked pelvis, and multiple cuts and bruises in her plunge down the steep-pitched waterfall which is one of the world's most awesome scenic attractions.

The water rushes down a series of scooped-out pools, jumps into the air and reverses itself to form a series of huge waterwheels during its sharp descent.

Camping In Grand Canyon The double accident happened when the couple who had been camping in the Grand Canyon of the Tuolumne river, went to the head of the falls. Yeoman leaned over to get a drink of water and fell into the swift current.

Mrs. Yeoman reached out for her husband and fell in after him. Both tumbled down the falls to the pool below.

Witnesses were amazed to see Yeoman crawl from the pool unaided. Mrs. Yeoman, who clung to a piece of driftwood, was pulled out by rescuers who raced to the scene and gave her first aid.

Then a long trek to get her to a hospital began.

Thirty volunteers took turns on a six-man litter to carry her up a 3,000-foot tortuous trail to an ambulance which Dr. Avery Sturm, chief of Yosemite's Lewis Memorial hospital, had driven 50 miles into the mountains from the valley.

She was described as "extremely cheerful" during the entire trip and was given a good chance to recover.

The couple have a three-year-old child, Eric, Jr., who stayed with Yeoman's mother, Mrs. R. J. Larkin of Oakland, while his parents went to Yosemite.

Pennsylvania Power company said customers suffered only temporary interruptions.

Price Stabilizer Rules Against Milk Price Increases

PITTSBURGH, July 23.—(INS)—Price Stabilizer Michael V. Disalle today ruled against milk price increases granted by the Pennsylvania Milk Commission in Western Pennsylvania.

The commission had approved a one-cent-per-quart hike in the Pittsburgh and Erie districts and another of one-half-cent-per-quart in the Johnstown-Altoona areas. But Disalle notified OPS Pittsburgh District Director James H. Wallace Jr. that OPS will approve an amended application providing for a one-half-cent-per-quart increase.

His ruling, according to Wallace, means a saving of $1,396,000 to Pittsburgh district consumers.

Last Wednesday milk in the Pittsburgh district was increased to 22-cents-a-quart in stores and to 23 cents delivered to homes. Three months before OPS had permitted a one-cent-per-quart increase.

The commission now must file an amended application asking for the one-half-cent-per-quart increase.

This is the first time in the history of the Lawrence County Council that a local group has visited the 130,000 acre scout ranch, and because of the interest shown, an even larger group is expected in 1952.

News Briefs From City Hall

At the meeting, Monday in city hall, council instructed the city engineer to prepare plans and specifications for the taking of bids for the paving of Scioto Street between Long Avenue and Center Way. The property-owners already have deposited their payments with the city solicitor.

Mayor John F. Haven reported to council he and Finance Director A. A. Hoyland had conferred with Frank Graziano concerning damage done to the Graziano property when the new highway was put in Butler Avenue. Graziano agreed to accept $75,000 damages. The action was confirmed by council.

Don Cioffi paid the city of New Castle, $8,005, for the former streets bureau building and land it occupies in Taylor Street, which is in a main commercial zone. The city will deliver a deed for the property to Mr. Cioffi immediately.

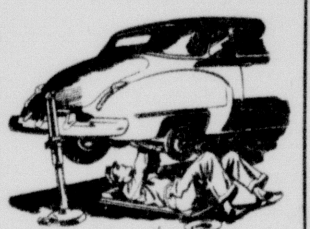

Upon motion of Councilman E. Gene Schweinsberg payments due Andrew Pihales, contractor for the new city streets department building, first ward, were held up until he shows better progress. Mayor John F. Haven reported that progress made was slow which Mr. Schweinsberg confirmed.

During council Monday, Mayor Haven suggested some member offer a motion authorizing the extension of the main sanitary trunk system between Mahoning avenue and uptown, and a survey for a storm sewer on Croton avenue hill. Councilman E. Gene Schweinsberg introduced the motion.

Council bills enacted into ordinances Monday were as follows: (1) authorizing double pay for policemen who work during their vacations; (2) increasing the paid firemen to 35 and temporary firemen to five; (3) authorizing the parks and property department to hire several employees and (4) agreeing to make Montgomery avenue grade between the PRR and the city-Taylor township line conform to plans of the state highway department which proposes to resurface the section.

Bicycles will be tested Tuesday at the city building due to the Park avenue fire department house being used by voters. Policeman D'Ambrosia has been assigned to the division as an inspector.

Russell McConahy, named recently as a city policeman, began his new duties Monday.

Truman Is Invited To Speak In North Carolina In Fall

WASHINGTON, July 23.—(INS)—President Truman was invited today to speak at ground-breaking ceremonies Oct. 15 when the new Wake Forest College campus will be begun at Winston-Salem, N. C.

The invitation was extended by a delegation from Winston-Salem including Dr. Harold W. Tribble, president of Wake Forest, and Judge Hubert Oliver, chairman of the Board of Trustees.

The group reported the president said he would give "very careful consideration" to the invitation and that he would like to attend if possible.

Truck Drivers Launch Strike In Cleveland, O.

CLEVELAND, July 23.—(INS)—Truck drivers and dockmen of AFL-Teamsters Local 407 are posted at truck terminals throughout greater Cleveland today to stop freight traffic going in and out of the city.

The 5,000 member union went out on strike late yesterday following a meeting in Public Music hall. The local handles general cartage in the greater Cleveland area.

Employer representatives of the cartage companies are to meet this afternoon and all members of the trucking industry will get together later in the day in efforts to end the strike.

The city's industry, much of which is moved by truck deliveries, will feel the effect of the strike if it continues for several more days.

All milk, food and medical supplies will be delivered, the union said, and truckers handling gasoline, beer and building supplies will not be stopped. Hospitals and public institutions will get their usual service.

The union staged a similar strike on July 6 and 7 over the same issues.

Believe Smuggling Ring Leaders Taken

WETHERSFIELD, Conn., July 23.—(INS)—Police said today that a smuggling ring that leaked dope and messages into Connecticut state prison has been cracked with the arrest of two guards and an inmate.

Under arrest as a climax of a four-month investigation are Genaro Azzi, 39-year-old prisoner serving a term for armed robbery, and Louis A. Deloretto, 28, and Jonas Abramovitz, 36, both guards at the institution.

A third guard is reported "under scrutiny". He is said to have been "close to" Ralph Mele, a former convict whose bullet-ridden body was found in a New Haven park last March.

Pennsylvania To Observe National Farm Safety Week

HARRISBURG, July 23.—(INS)—Pennsylvania has joined in observance of National Farm Safety Week.

State Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst pointed out that greater safety in farming can be attained through many soil conservation practices.

Tractors frequently topple over when turned sharply up or down hill or when moved too close to a gully in a field, he explained. "Through proper soil conservation practices whereby steep turns and gullies can be eliminated such hazards may be removed," he said.

"There are scores of practices in all phases of farming that will prevent accidents and property damage—age saves lives," said Horst.

He emphasized that 57 out of every 100,000 farm workers were killed in accidents on the job last year against only 22 of every 100,000 industrial workers.

BARRYMORES AGHAST OVER JOHN

Aunt Ethel is angry.

Cousin Ethel, co-star. John Barrymore, Jr., backs out of play.

"I'M NOT THAT GOOD," was one of the reasons given by John Barrymore, Jr., 19-year-old son of the late "Great Profile," in backing out of the lead role in "The Hasty Heart" at Salt Creek summer theater in Chicago a week before opening night. It would have been his stage debut after four film roles. In Hollywood, his famous aunt, Ethel Barrymore, aghast, said angrily it was the "first time in 300 years" that a Barrymore failed to fulfill an engagement. Barrymore's co-star was to have been his cousin, Ethel Barrymore Colt, who was unable to talk him into continuing the role.

Senator Duff Calls For Bi-Partisan Foreign Policy

DENVER, July 24.—(INS)—Sen. Duff (R) Pa., today called for a bi-partisan foreign policy adopted by both parties as the only way to meet the Russian menace.

In a prepared speech at the University of Denver's World Affairs Institute, Monday, Duff declared that "the United States can't do it alone" and that a bi-partisan policy, particularly in a presidential election campaign, is essential to prevent world uncertainty.

Duff told the institute: "Under the critical world situation it is imperative that the foreign policy of the United States must not be permitted to depend solely upon the will of one political party."

"It is clear that during campaigns when President and Congress are standing for election, the whole free world will be unsettled since only the result of the campaign will determine what the foreign policy of this nation is to be."

The Pennsylvania senator declared:

"An accord between the parties (on foreign policy) will not only provide a formula for peace, but a constructive plan for action necessary to guarantee victory if Russia decides to begin World War III."

But, Duff said, "A policy by the party in power, handed to the

BEE TROUBLE

COLUMBUS, O.—(INS)—Honey bees are to blame for a peculiar, gummy rainfall in a Columbus suburb. Residents of the Hilltop area complained of a mysterious spotting on cars and clothes. State apiarist S. E. Bailey checked into the situation and said bees were to blame. His explanation: "Clover is in bloom. Bees love clover. They take on too much honey. Once aloft, they find it difficult to fly and jettison part of their load."

CLEVELAND FOR CITY CONTROLLER

To The Republican Voters Of New Castle:

I come to you seeking your approval tomorrow, Tuesday, at the polls, with a background of 10 years experience in the financial department of the City.

As you know, I am serving as your City Controller at the present time, having been selected unanimously when the former incumbent was called into the Armed Forces of the United States of America.

I wish to take this opportunity to publicly thank the people of New Castle for the understanding and enthusiasm accorded my campaign. The hearty reception received, together with the generous assurances of the voters everywhere, make it possible to look forward to Tuesday with full confidence of success.

It has been impossible for me to see all the voters of the city, much as I would like to have done so. I ask you to consider this, my personal appeal. If you will cast your valuable vote for me, remembering that every vote counts, I will be profoundly grateful to you.

Yours sincerely,

Increase In State Traffic Deaths Shown This Year

HARRISBURG, July 23.—(INS)—Accelerated enforcement of Pennsylvania's traffic safety laws failed to reduce deaths on highways during the first half of 1951. The state highway safety bureau reported today that 689 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents on public roads and the Pennsylvania turnpike during the six months, an increase of 21 over a comparable period last year. A 49 per cent mid-year increase in license suspensions and a 25.6 per cent boost in revocations was reported for 1951 by the bureau. The National Safety Council has informed the bureau that 654 people died on public roads since January 1, a gain of 13 over the comparable period in 1950.

Turnpike Deaths
Deaths in accidents on the Pennsylvania turnpike totaled 35 at mid-year against the 21 in the same period last year, according to the bureau.

A routine five months report issued by the bureau reflected an 18 per cent increase in rural traffic deaths and an eight per cent decrease in urban fatalities. A total of 353 rural and 212 urban fatalities were reported up to June 30, 1951.

Thirty-five counties showed increases in deaths for the first five months. Allegheny led with 11 additional fatalities while Dauphin county had a saving of 18 lives.

Suspended 29,676 Drivers Licenses
Licenses of 29,676 drivers were suspended during the first half of 1951 while 1,600 were revoked.

This compares with 13,876 suspensions and 1,346 revocations in mid-1950.

The bulk of the suspensions were for speeding—12,762 through June 30 this year compared with 8,972 at the same point last year. Violators of Pennsylvania's 50-mile-an-hour speed limit lost their licenses under a mandatory 90-day suspension if convicted.

McCluskey, Fullerton and Clarence Shumaker aided Mr. McCluskey. The unit, which has been arranged in a different way from last season's, should prove a joy to the older girls.

Bessemer Man Injured In Crash

Fred Anderson, aged 34 years, of Bessemer was admitted to the Jameson Memorial hospital for treatment of injuries Saturday evening when his car went off the highway on a curve and struck a pole. Mr. Anderson was rendered unconscious and does not know how long he lay at the accident scene. He was brought to the hospital Sunday morning at 9:45. Examination at the hospital revealed a contusion of the right shoulder and upper part of the abdomen on the left side, and possible concussion. His condition was reported as fair today.

Two Injured As Auto Leaves Road

Two persons were injured and were treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital at 6 p. m. Sunday, when an automobile in which they were riding, skidded from the road and struck an embankment, overturning, near New Wilmington. The injured were Mrs. Nettie Law of 411 Neshannock avenue, contusions of the lower part of the left leg and chest and Sharon Law, aged four years, of 388 1/2 East Washington street, abrasions of the right upper eyelid, left forearm and back.

Names More Than Score Of Reds In Boston Defense Area

WASHINGTON, July 23.—(INS)—Former FBI undercover agent Herbert Philbrick today named more than a score of persons he said he knew as Communists in the Boston defense area.

Philbrick told the House Un-American Activities Committee that he became an FBI spy after finding that the Cambridge Youth Council, which he joined in 1940 because he was interested in youth work, was espousing Red doctrine.

The 36-year-old witness said he remained in the council at the request of the FBI and reported on the activities of the Young Communist League, the American Youth For Democracy and the Communist party itself from 1940 to 1949.

Commercial Vehicle Parking Restricted

When council met in city hall Monday an ordinance was introduced which prohibits the parking of any commercial motor vehicle for more than one hour in any A or B zone district, or for more than two hours in any other street or avenue in the city.

It was indicated it will pass after it is called up for final passage. Councilman E. Gene Schweinsberg also introduced an ordinance prohibiting vehicles carrying more than 10,000 pounds from traveling on Ray street between Butler avenue and East Washington streets. Violation of either ordinance will result in a heavy fine.

Cpl. Zduriencik Given High Honor

Cpl. Stephen P. Zduriencik of Route 3, Katherine street, has been awarded the Bronze Star with "V" device for heroic achievement in Korea.

Zduriencik is a member of the 38th Infantry Regiment of the Second Division, and distinguished himself in the fighting near Pungchon last May. The citation read in part "Corporal Zduriencik, throughout a critical engagement, was a company runner and served as the only means of communication between the company command post and various other elements of the company. Utterly heedless of the heavy enemy fire and hostile infiltrations, he moved back and forth delivering messages and instructions. His courageous and fearless actions were a major factor in the successful defense of the company position against numerical odds."

Czechoslovakia Has Rejected Demand For Oatis' Release

WASHINGTON, July 23.—(INS)—The State Department announced today that Czechoslovakia has rejected a U. S. demand for the immediate release of William N. Oatis, an American newspaperman who was sentenced to 10 years imprisonment of spy charges.

State Department spokesman Michael McDermott said the Czech note was received by the U. S. Embassy in Prague Saturday in reply to a note delivered of the Czech foreign office on July 16, just after Oatis' sentence.

McDermott said that the U. S. is studying its next move. He added that thus far the Czech government has failed to reply to the U. S. Embassy request that one of its counselor officers be allowed to see Oatis.

NEW, MIRACLE ELECTRONIC EAR HIDES DEAFNESS

CHICAGO, (Special)—An amazing new electronic ear which hides deafness and transmits even whispers with startling clarity, has been revealed by a noted Chicago electronic scientist.

He disclosed that this miraculous new discovery has rendered old-style hearing aids obsolete almost overnight, and brings new hope to the 16 million persons in the United States who are hard of hearing.

He reported that this electronic ear enables the deaf to hear without any button showing in the ear and without dangling battery wires. To acquaint the hard of hearing readers of this paper with this new miracle electronic ear which hides deafness, full details are described in a fascinating booklet, "New Discoveries to Help the Deaf Hear." It will be sent free in a plain wrapper to anyone who requests it. Address: Electronic Research Director, 1450 West 19th Street, 550B Belmont Building, Chicago 8, Ill. A penny postcard will do.—Adv.

War Of Nerves Against Tito Is Being Stepped Up

LONDON, July 24.—(INS)—A step-up in the war of nerves against Marshal Tito's Yugoslav government was indicated today after the number two man in the Soviet hierarchy predicted his regime would soon be eliminated.

Vyacheslav M. Molotov, Soviet deputy premier, loosed the latest propaganda blast at the country that defied domination by Moscow in a speech at Warsaw which marked the "seventh anniversary of Poland's rebirth."

Representatives of all of the red satellite states took part in the program, which was broadcast yesterday by radio Moscow.

Molotov declared that the people of Yugoslavia themselves would "eliminate the Tito fascist regime."

Seaman Finds Cup Issued In 1940

In Pusan Line-Up

WITH THE 17TH FIELD ARTILLERY BATTALION, U. S. ARMY IN KOREA, July 24.—(INS)—No canteen cup is more highly prized than that of Sfc. Walter A. Criss, Spencer, W. Va., who is a section chief in Battery A.

Back in September 1947 while stationed at Fort Sill, Okla., he was forced to turn in the canteen cup on which he had carved the names of the 10 countries he had served in during World War II because it failed to pass inspection.

Criss tried to sign a statement of charges so he could keep the cup that had been issued to him at Fort Knox in 1940, but his commanding officer wouldn't permit it.

Then fate stepped in, as it has a habit of doing. While standing in a canteen line in Pusan last September, Sergeant Criss spotted his cup. It took only a few minutes to talk the man into swapping.

Since then Criss has carved many more names of famous battles on its scarred aluminum sides.

The royal family of Stuarts got their name from Robert II, King of Scotland, son of Walter, the Steward of Scotland.

Drop In Relief Rolls Reported

HARRISBURG, July 23.—(INS)—A drop of 5945 persons during the first half of July was reported today by the state department of public assistance to have reduced relief rolls to approximately 278,000 indigents.

The usual seasonal decline appears to have been offset, said the DPA, by an unending stream of defense orders, expansion of heavy industries and the availability of outdoor employment.

Lightning Scary, But Simple Rules Keep Down Risk

Lightning is not the most important accident killer by far—about 300 deaths a year—but because of its ripping power, its noise and its blinding flash it has held a fearsome aspect for man through the ages.

To understand it better, the National Safety Council offers these facts:

Lightning is chiefly a rural problem, as far as individual protection is concerned. Nine-tenths of the fatalities and injuries occur in rural areas or in outlying districts where buildings are isolated and relatively small.

Avoid High Places

High places are the most dangerous. If you must remain outside a shelter, find a gully, a cave or the base of a cliff. Second best is a grove of trees, if care is taken not to stand under the tallest one. Avoid hilltops, isolated trees and lone buildings.

An ordinary house in a settled district is relatively safe, since there usually are higher structures nearby and the network of plumbing and wiring in a house provides some protection. It is a good idea, however, to stay away from large metal objects in a house, especially if they are connected to the outside by wires.

But don't think that lightning never strikes the same place twice. Wherever lightning strikes, there is a possibility that it may strike again because certain conditions at that spot may offer a special attraction.

Imagination Aids In Flu Epidemic

PITTSBURGH—(INS)—Many persons laid low by the recent flu epidemic actually were victims of their imagination.

That's what the Allegheny County Medical Society says.

"Recent talk about influenza epidemics has caused every person who has a cold in the nose, a headache, indigestion or gastroenteritis to proclaim to the world at large that he has the flu," says the society.

The society believes there seems to be a psychological factor involved.

"Many people psychologically strong may have a certain amount of infection without being incapacitated. Others who are subject to the implication that they are ill immediately take to their beds."

Naturally there were a lot of colds, what with the changing weather, the society will admit.

Only this year, the society adds, everyone seemed to get the flu instead of "just a cold."

What the society implies, or rather says, is that "the intellectual with a common cold is not satisfied with the old drugs doctors used to hand out, and he now requires aureomycin."

Mechanical Banks Did Nifty Tricks

PORTLAND, Ore.—(INS)—The art of saving has traveled a long way since the days of mechanical banks.

Nowadays the saving medium is largely government and postal saving bonds, deducted in large measure, from pay checks.

Back "in the good old days" youngsters and adults, too, got a run for their money when they placed their coins in mechanical banks which did all manner of tricks before plunking the coin in the treasury.

At a recent antiques fair at Oswego, a collection of mechanical banks caught the eye of all.

They ranged from a gaudily dressed "Dinah" who nodded an iron head in acknowledgment of any penny dropped in her generous laughing mouth to an intricate "Darktown Baseball Battery."

This intricate bank was started in motion when a penny placed in the pitcher's hand touched a lever. The pitcher threw the penny to the plate, the batter swung and missed and the catcher blandly pocketed the coin.

A "Tammany" bank consisted of a fat little iron man sitting in a chair. The head nodded curtly as the outstretched hand dropped the coin into his breast pocket.

Another device started an entire horse race into motion for as little as a penny.

Measuring Cups Cooking Musts

NEW YORK—(INS)—Accuracy in measuring is an important factor in good cooking, and for accuracy you need the right kinds of measures.

Standards of household measuring cups have been set up by the American Standards Association. Standard measures are used in most recipes, and for the best results you need them too.

When you buy, look on labels for indication that the measures meet standards, or ask the sales clerk whether they do.

Measuring spoons usually come in sets of four: a quarter teaspoon, a half teaspoon, a teaspoon and a tablespoon. Aluminum and plastic are the materials commonly used. Plastic spoons are likely to be damaged by boiling or near boiling temperatures and may break if dropped on a hard surface.

The vampire bat does not exist at present in the United States.

Schenksville Wins Post Office Battle

SCHENKSVILLE, Pa. (INS)—After 45 vexing years the residents of Schenksville, Pa. have finally won their battle with the U. S. Post Office department.

From now on the official spelling of the southeastern Pennsylvania town is Schenksville, and not Sewenksville, as the post office people would have it.

Mail moguls crossed out the "s" in the middle of the name back in 1906 three years after the community was incorporated as Schenksville in order to avoid confusion with nearby Schnecksville.

But the independent-minded townspeople never went along with the official ruling. For all these years they've spelled and pronounced it Schenksville, oblivious to the name emblazoned on the post office building.

The National Bank and Trust Co., the Bell Telephone Co. and a few other businesses adopted the abbreviated spelling.

The bank even had the "s-less" version etched on its front.

Now the good citizenry has been rewarded for its orthographical persistence.

It wasn't that the P. O. tired of being hard to get along with. As it turned out, 90 per cent of the incoming mail used the "s" anyway, and the confusion with Schnecksville didn't end either.

Appliance Buyers Get A Food Bonus

CHICAGO—(INS)—A large appliance manufacturer is giving recognition to the high cost of living and mounting food bills as the average family's No. 1 headache.

It has launched a six weeks sales campaign on that basis.

Thor Corporation instructed 5,000 dealers throughout the country to present a bushel of groceries and a peck of potatoes to each customer buying one of its wringer washing machines. The company's president, John R. Hurley, declared: "We believe that giving away food these days is even better than giving away money."

Robt. E. Lee Sees Too Many Lees In Korean Theater

WITH THE U. S. SECOND INFANTRY DIVISION IN KOREA, July 24.—(Delayed)—Pfc. Robert E. Lee, naturally from the South—Logan, W. Va., is about ready to trade in on a new name.

Since he arrived in Korea last March he has met such a bevy of Lees that he's ready for another name.

Add to the confusion the number of Korean Lees. Now he's seen it again. Combat photographer Lee was visiting Love company of the 23rd Infantry Regiment. The first man he met—Robert E. Lee, of Breckwood, Ala.

The Love company Lee was amused. Cameron Lee was the first he had met with the same name.

The photographer refused to discuss it with him.

Possible Hunger March Discussed

LONDON—(INS)—Possibility of organizing a nation-wide "hunger march" on London by housewives is being discussed by the Shrewsbury Housewives Association.

Mrs. Doris L. Lanigan told the Association she had thought for some time that they should have a hunger march.

"I think it is useless trying to negotiate or lobby Members of Parliament. We need a more militant spirit," Mrs. Lanigan declared.

Association Chairman Mrs. P. Lincoln Lewis said that housewives would need to go to London in such large numbers that they would fill every nook and cranny at the House of Commons.

If a "hunger march" resolution is passed at Shrewsbury, it will go to other Association regions for approval.

Five Year Plan For Teachers

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—(INS)—Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Harvard University will inaugurate a joint five-year program next fall to increase the number of broadly-trained science and mathematics teachers available to secondary schools.

The program will lead to degrees of Bachelor of Science in General Science at M. I. T. and Master of Arts in Teaching at Harvard.

The undergraduate phase of the project is largely at M. I. T., although some Harvard courses may be taken as early as the third year. Thereafter, students will take courses at both institutions and draw on the educational resources of both.

During the fifth year, students will teach part-time at local high schools under the direction of the faculty of the Harvard School of Education.

Qualified graduates of high and preparatory schools will be accepted for the project. Their first two years will include the same program as taken by the other M. I. T. students. After that, each student will receive more intensive training in the particular field of special interest to him.

The two educational institutions, in announcing the program, said current production of well-trained teachers was falling far short of the demand and that unless action was taken the situation would have grown more acute in the next decade.

The injured were identified as Joseph McKee, 43, of Tyrone, driver of the other car; his wife, Dorothy, 41, and their son William, 16, and Gertrude Schmidt, 20, of Glenside. Mrs. McKee suffered bruises of the right arm and both legs while William suffered a fractured rib.

Miss Schmidt, a passenger in Price's car, suffered eye lacerations and leg bruises.

Price was on his way to New Philadelphia after a visit with friends at Pennsylvania State college. Police said his car skidded into McKee's and plunged into an embankment.

HE KNOWS THE JOB

As a candidate for re-election to the position of school director, I feel that you, the taxpayer, should know my policy.

I believe in rigid economy which means getting the best return for the money spent. I oppose any re-location of schools which will make it necessary for small children to walk long distances to school, thereby endangering their health and lives.

I oppose any bond issue or re-building program at this time that will cause an increase in taxes. With building costs at their highest peak, our nation at war, our President asking a large increase in income taxes, and our Governor asking for a state income tax, plus the uncertainty and very probable decrease in our school population, I am convinced that we should give you taxpayers all the relief we can.

We need some modernization of our school plant. This I believe should be done on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Indians Open Six-Game Home Stand Wednesday; Yanks Take Lead

Tribe Rained Out Sunday; Lose Saturday To Erie, 6-2

The New Castle Indians left early today for a two-day stand at Lockport, N. Y., and will return home Wednesday, to open a six-game series, that will bring Lockport and Oil City to Flaherty Field.

Sunday's Erie-New Castle game was postponed on account of rain and wet grounds, but Saturday night the Sailors trimmed the Redskins 6-2 behind the five-hit hurling of Bob Weaver, who racked up his 10th win against four defeats. Paul Klaffer was the losing pitcher, giving him a 9-4 record for the season.

Weaver Masters Redskins

Weaver was complete master Saturday not allowing more than one hit in any inning, and fanning six Indians. Klaffer had one bad inning, the first, giving up five hits—three singles, a triple, and double for four runs.

The Indians are still in fourth place today, two and a half games back of Erie and one full game back of the third place Lockport team, the latter club dropping a twin-bill to Butler Sunday, 2-0, and 5-4 for the only league action. Niagara Falls idle over the week-end by rain, took second place, a game back of Erie. Butler in fifth place is only a game back of the Indians and three and a half off the top, as the Middle-Atlantic league race is tightening up.

Butler Granted Release

Business Manager Jack Lewis today announced that third-baseman Chet Butler, asked for his release after the Saturday night game here, and it was granted to him. Butler, a much better ball player than he showed here this year, was bothered by a bad back.

Board Meeting Called Tonight

President Al Scanzano of New Castle Citizens Baseball Inc., has called an important meeting of the board of directors for tonight at 8:30 o'clock at the Hotel New Penn. Several important business matters are up for consideration. A full turnout of board members is urgently requested.

all season, and he was not the same young man that sparkled at Vandergrift and Johnstown last year. Butler has returned to his home in Hagerstown, Md.

Butler at times showed promise of regaining the stride that he maintained last year as one of the best in the Middle-Atlantic League, but at the start of the season was bothered by several in-grown toe nails, and never really rounded into first class playing shape. He was batting .281 with a fielding mark of .856 as of last Friday. He had 58 RBI's, and at bat had eight homers and 22 doubles being the leader in this department.

Irish Bob Murphy Meets Rindone In Rematch Tonight

BOSTON, July 23.—(INS)—Irish Bob Murphy of San Diego is rated a strong favorite to whip Dynamite Joe Rindone of Roxbury in their 10-round rematch tonight at Braves field which is expected to draw more than 25,000 fans.

A title match with world light heavyweight champion Joey Maxim is in store for the winner. In addition, Murphy, recent conqueror of Jake LaMotta, will receive 30 per cent of an expected $75,000 gate and Rindone will draw 27 1/2 per cent.

In their previous encounter before a capacity attendance at Boston Garden on April 16 Rindone emerged the victor in the sixth round on a foul.

Bob Palmer Loses In Semi-Finals In Indiana Tourney

Jack Mahaffey of the Oakmont Country club, Pittsburgh, won the eighth annual Indiana Country club invitational tournament over the weekend by downing Tommy Smith of Greensburg 3 and 2, after edging Bob Palmer of New Castle 1 up in the semi-finals.

Palmer entered the semi-finals by defeating Larry Dana of Greensburg in a real driving duel. This match between Palmer and Dana matched the two longest drivers in the tournament and drew nearly the entire gallery.

Fred Palmer of New Castle was eliminated in the second round of the tourney by Don Moran of Blainmont, 1 up. Moran was eliminated by Tommy Smith in the semi-finals.

Pulaski, Volant And Eden-Hillers At Home Tonight

Pulaski, Volant and the Eden-Hillers are at home tonight in North County Baseball league play. Pulaski is host to New Wilmington, Volant to St. Lucy and the Hillers to East Brook.

With only seven more league games to go, there is a mad scramble for positions for the Snaughnessy playoff.

Only East Brook and New Wilmington seem assured of playoff posts and they are still battling for the league pennant. The other four teams are so closely bunched that the results of tonight's games could reverse their positions.

St. Lucy is currently the hottest club in the league, including two wins over league leading East Brook.

JOHNSON FAVORED
PHILADELPHIA, July 23.—(INS)—Harold Johnson of Philadelphia is favored to defeat Chubb by Wright of Reading, Pa., in a 10-round light heavyweight boxing feature at Toppi stadium tonight. The bout had been postponed twice by rain.

Joe Kirkwood Jr. Wins Blue Ribbon

MILWAUKEE, July 23.—(INS)—Joe Kirkwood, Jr., husky California film star, today was a hero in real life, too.

Kirkwood met the best golfdom has to offer—with the exception Ben Hogan—and came through yesterday with a smashing victory in the blue ribbon open at Milwaukee.

He fired a blistering seven-under-par 64 over the final 18 holes to post a 72-hole total of 271, 13 under par for the North Hills Country club course.

CRIME DOESN'T PAY?
LONDON, July 23.—(INS)—Who says crime doesn't pay? Jailbird and Life Sentence were the winning horses recently for the daily double at Newmarket race track.

Scotts and Ross-Morell, city league softball teams, will meet in a postponed game tonight at 6:15 at Gaston park, it was announced today by Scott business manager Bob Nesbitt.

Torrid Fight Has Fans Dizzy

Dodgers Pad Lead In National Loop

By JOHN BARRINGTON
(U. N. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, July 23.—The American League took time out in its breathtaking pennant chase today to shift its base of operations eastward—and to pick out a fresh rabbit for its game of hare and hounds.

The New York Yankees, Boston Red Sox and Cleveland Indians looked so near a first-place deadlock as to make the Yankees' two-percentage point margin hardly worth mentioning.

Yanks Win Two
The Yankees, winning their first doubleheader of the year, Sunday downed the St. Louis Browns twice—9 to 0 and 7 to 3.

The Indians climbed into a second-place deadlock as they downed the Athletics, 6 to 4 and 3 to 1, behind Bob Lemon and Steve Gromek. Lemon's triumph was his tenth of the season.

It took a ten-inning double by Johnny Pesky with the bases full to give the Red Sox a 10-to-9 decision over Detroit.

Meanwhile, the White Sox' disintegration continued. They dropped a pair to Washington, 7 to 6 and 11 to 5.

Dodgers Pad Lead
In the National League, Brooklyn added half a game to its already huge margin by downing the St. Louis Cardinals, 9 to 2.

The second-place New York Giants split a twin bill. They lost the first, 7 to 3, and won the second, 9 to 8.

Pirates-Braves Split
Willard Marshall homered in the seventh and tripled with two on in the eighth to pace the Boston Braves to a 5-to-3 first game triumph over Pittsburgh. However, the Pirates won the night cap, 5 to 2.

The Chicago Cubs went 14 innings to make Phil Cavaretta's managerial debut a success, edging Philadelphia, 8 to 7. They also led, 1 to 0, in the second game when curfew halted it after seven innings. It will be completed later.

Compared to Premium-priced Gasolines

gives you

More Miles Per Dollar | 2¢ Saving Per Gallon

Automotive Engineers know that the weight of a gallon of gasoline determines energy content... mileage. Official surveys show that the weight per gallon of high-test Blue Sunoco matches the average of all leading premium-priced gasolines. In short, high-test Blue Sunoco gives you equal energy, equal mileage at lower cost... gives you more miles per dollar.

High-test Blue Sunoco sells at regular gas price, which is usually 2 cents a gallon below premium-priced gasolines. In spite of its low price, in many ways Blue Sunoco gives you more value because of its outstanding balance of such qualities as anti-rust, quick-starting, anti-stalling, clean burning, long mileage and high-test action.

"I met you just a month ago, Richy, but this makes me feel I've known you forever."

WHEN IT RAINS, IT SOAKS

A 35-YEAR-OLD AMATEUR INVENTOR of Miami claims he has the answer to the prayers of owners of convertibles—a gadget which will raise the top when the owner is away from the car and it starts to rain. Jimmy Long calls it the automatic rain cell—approximately the size of a shoe polish can mounted on any flat surface of the car. When attached to an electric or hydraulically controlled convertible top, the first drop of water (demonstrated by Shirley McCrea with an eye dropper) on the unit raises the top and all car windows. "The secret, says Long, is that water conducts electricity. (International Soundphoto)

50,000 MILES TO TAKE A PHOTO

BY CENTRAL PRESS

LIMA, PERU—Early in 1943 Capt. Samuel H. Compton (right), native of Toledo, O., of PANAGRA (Pan American-Grace Airways) spotted a beautiful Bolivian waterfall (arrow) between Cochabamba and Santa Cruz.

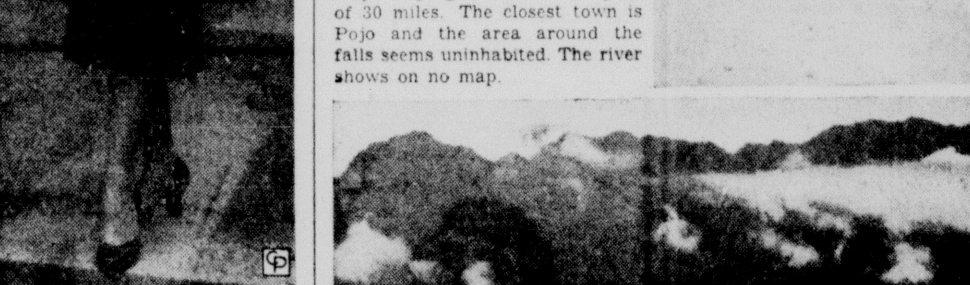

More than 50,000 miles later he got a picture (below) of it.

Cloud formations had conspired against him as he flew over his Andean route more than 250 times, always ready and hoping for a clear shot.

He got his picture from a distance of 12 miles.

The falls are at an altitude of 8,500 feet and have a sheer drop of more than 2,700 feet—an estimated 1,400 feet clear. Compton estimates the width of the falls at about 40 feet at the top.

They are in a range of mountains which has a top altitude of 14,700 feet and drops down to a tropical jungle within the space of 30 miles. The closest town is Pojo and the area around the falls seems uninhabited. The river shows on no map.
